American Century Investments Cookies Policy

Information about our use of cookies

A cookie is a small file of letters and numbers that is stored on a user's device.

This Cookies Policy describes the cookies we use on our website and what they are used for. This Cookies Policy should be read alongside our Website Privacy Notice.

The types of cookies we use are set out below. We do not require your consent to set 'Strictly necessary' cookies on your device. The other categories of cookies are optional and can be accepted or rejected by visiting our Privacy Preference Center.

> Strictly necessary cookies. These are cookies that are essential for the operation of our website and for us to provide services requested by you. They include, for example, cookies that enable you to log into secure areas of our website.

Persistent cookies remain on a user's device for a time period as noted in the tables above. Session cookies are automatically deleted when the user's Internet browser is closed.

These cookies can be removed at any time by following the appropriate instructions on your Internet browser.

If you use your browser settings to block all cookies (including essential cookies) you may not be able to access all or parts of our website.

Please note that third parties (including, for example, advertising networks and providers of external services like web traffic analysis services) may also use cookies, over which we have no control. These cookies are likely to be analytical/performance cookies or targeting cookies.
