Key Terms: Expected Returns: Valuation theory shows that the expected return of a stock is a function of its current price, its book equity (assets minus liabilities) and expected future profits, and that the expected return of a bond is a function of its current yield and its expected capital appreciation (depreciation). We use information in current market prices and company financials to identify differences in expected returns among securities, seeking to overweight securities with higher expected returns based on this current market information. Actual returns may be different than expected returns, and there is no guarantee that the strategy will be successful. Weighted Average Market Capitalization: The average of the weighted capitalizations of a portfolio's holdings. Weighted Average Book/Market: An average book-to-market ratio resulting from the multiplication of each security's book-to-market by its weight in the portfolio. Weighted Average Profits/Book: An average profits-to-book ratio resulting from the multiplication of each security's profits-to-book by its weight in the portfolio.

The Russell 1000® Value Index measures the performance of those Russell 1000 Index companies (the 1,000 largest publicly traded U.S. companies, based on total market capitalization) with lower price-to-book ratios and lower forecasted growth values. It is not possible to invest in an index.
