2024 U.S. GENERAL ELECTION GUIDE: STATE RACES TO WATCH

NEVADA

2020: Biden

Why we're watching: Largely Democratic since 2008, but margins have been shrinking. Nearly one-third of Nevada voters are unaffiliated with either party.

ARIZONA

2020: Biden

Why we're watching: 2020 was the first time a Democratic candidate won here since 2000. As a border state, immigration will likely be an important issue.

WISCONSIN

2020: Biden

Why we're watching: Typically a Democratic stronghold, this state was lost to Republicans in 2016. Biden rebuilt the "blue wall" in 2020 by flipping it back to the Democrats, but the margin was less than 1%.

MICHIGAN

2020: Biden

Why we're watching: Considered one of the "blue wall" states, Trump won Michigan in 2016. Home to a lot of manufacturing, the union vote will likely be key.

GEORGIA

2020: Biden

Why we're watching: 2020 was the first time a Democratic candidate won here since 1992. Margins have been shrinking steadily with changing voter demographics.

NORTH CAROLINA

2020: Trump

Why we're watching: Considered a "lean" Republican state, Democrats eked out a victory here in 2008. They have been trying to flip this state again, with margins shrinking over time.

PENNSYLVANIA

2020: Biden

Why we're watching: One of the "blue wall" states that Democrats lost in 2016, Biden clinched his victory by taking back Pennsylvania in 2020.
