

Transfer or Roll Over Retirement Assets to American Century Investments®

Read these instructions to help make your transfer as smooth as possible. Please call us if you need help along the way.

Accounts are only available to U.S. citizens and U.S. resident aliens.

With this form you can:

- Transfer retirement assets from your current custodian, trustee or financial firm to us.
- Roll over assets from an employer's retirement plan.
- Convert an account you are transferring to a Roth IRA.

Please note: Transferring retirement assets directly to us requires liquidating your assets. However, it is not a taxable event unless you convert to a Roth IRA in the process.

This form may not be used to:

- Transfer assets from a non-retirement account or request a transfer-in-kind (move assets in the same fund from another financial firm). Please visit americancentury.com or call us for the appropriate form.
- Roll over after-tax or non-deductible contributions from an IRA to a qualified retirement plan, 403(b) or 457(b) plan.
- Convert an existing American Century® IRA to a Roth IRA. Instead, complete a Roth IRA Conversion form.
- Transfer assets within the same 403(b) employer plan. To transfer a 403(b) to the same employer 403(b) plan, please call 1-800-345-3533 for the appropriate form.

Before completing the form:

- Check with your current custodian, firm or trustee to determine their requirements. Do they require a signature guarantee, or have other guidelines you need to know about?
- Make sure you have the correct mailing address and telephone number for your current custodian, firm or trustee.
- If necessary, check with a tax advisor to determine which portion of your assets is available for rollover.
- Enclose the most recent account statement from your current custodian/firm/trustee with this form.

Commingling Rollover Assets

I have read the explanation below⁽¹⁾ regarding the consequences of commingling rollover assets with other IRA assets. If I have listed my American Century Investments Traditional IRA account number as the receiving account, I understand that I am authorizing commingling to occur.

- I hereby elect to maintain my rollover assets separately from my Traditional IRA assets and understand that if I have checked this box, a new Rollover IRA account will be established for these funds, even if I have directed the assets to be placed in my Traditional IRA account number elsewhere on this form.

(1) Commingling Contributions: Funds rolled over from an employer's retirement plan ("rollover assets") can be kept in a separate account, usually in a Rollover IRA. This allows you the option to return the rollover assets to a qualified retirement plan in the future. Commingling rollover and other IRAs together may cause you to forfeit that option in the future. Additionally, a Rollover IRA allows you to maintain eligibility for special tax treatment under an income-averaging or capital gains elections for qualified plan distributions. If you wish to preserve these options and special tax treatment, when applicable, please check the box above.

- (2) After two years, SIMPLE IRA assets may be transferred or rolled over to other plan types if authorized by the plan.
- (3) SIMPLE IRA to SIMPLE IRA transfers may be made at any time. Custodian transfers from other types of IRAs (except Roth IRAs) and rollovers from 403(b)s, 457(b)s and other qualified retirement plans may only be made after two years of participation in the SIMPLE IRA. The two-year participation period begins on the date the first contribution is made to any SIMPLE IRA plan maintained by your employer.
- (4) If you made after-tax contributions to your plan, you must tell us the amount of these contributions. Otherwise, rollover proceeds are assumed to be pre-tax contributions and earnings unless your current custodian indicates otherwise in the rollover documentation.
- (5) Some employer-sponsored retirement plans do not accept rollovers from other plans. Check with your plan administrator to find out if your plan will accept the rollover.
- (6) This form cannot be used for 403(b) to 403(b) transfers within the same employer plan. To transfer a 403(b) to the same employer 403(b) plan, please call 1-800-345-3533 for the appropriate form.

(7) Please send us a copy of the original IRA owner's death certificate or provide the information below for the deceased:

Name	Date of death	Social Security number	Date of birth
------	---------------	------------------------	---------------

* Roth assets must be moved either to a Roth IRA or a 401(k), 403(b) or 457(b) that accepts Roth contributions.

 Check only one option unless you are moving from a 401(k), 403(b) or 457(b) that includes both Traditional and Roth assets.

4 Additional Steps for Roth Conversions and Required Minimum Distributions

This section only applies if you want your current custodian to convert the assets you are transferring to a Roth IRA and/or remove your required minimum distribution prior to transferring your assets.

Roth Conversion: Converting tax-deferred assets to a Roth IRA creates a taxable distribution; your current custodian will require withholding instructions from you. Please review the information below, then complete an IRS Form W-4R and attach it to this form. Please call us for a W-4R form or download it from irs.gov.

We strongly encourage you to speak with your tax advisor before authorizing this conversion. A conversion is an irrevocable election that cannot be reversed or recharacterized.

Converted money that was not previously taxed is subject to federal income tax withholding; state tax withholding may also apply. You may choose a federal tax withholding rate of 0% to 100%. If you don't have enough withheld, you may be responsible for paying estimated taxes. You may incur penalties under the estimated tax rules if your withholding and estimated tax payments are not sufficient.

Alternatively, if you are under age 59½ and have tax withheld, the amount withheld will be considered an early distribution, subject to a 10% early withdrawal penalty tax. To avoid the penalty, you will need to make up the difference out of pocket and add it to your Roth IRA within 60 days.

Please be sure to attach the W-4R form. Otherwise, the default rate of 10% may be applied by your current custodian.

The year after the conversion, you will receive IRS Form 1099-R reporting the distribution and Form 5498 reporting the converted amount. We will also report the converted amount to the IRS.

Required Minimum Distribution (RMD): If you are age 72 or older, please contact your current custodian to request an RMD withdrawal before submitting this transfer form if either of the following apply:

- You are converting assets to a Roth IRA. Your entire RMD must be withdrawn first, even if you are only doing a partial conversion.
- You are doing a direct rollover to another type of plan. RMD funds cannot be rolled over.

5 Provide Investment Instructions For Incoming Assets

For specific information about the funds, refer to the prospectus or summary prospectus. For a complete list of funds, visit americancentury.com.

- I direct American Century Investments to open my account in the fund(s) indicated. However, if I do not specify a fund, I request a fund that is not available for this account, or my allocations do not total 100%, by submitting this form, I direct that portion of my account to be opened as follows:

- For IRAs and workplace retirement plans: In a target-date fund based on my birth date and an assumed retirement age of 65, OR in the default fund chosen by my employer for my workplace retirement plan, if applicable.

A target-date fund invests in a variety of underlying asset classes and investment styles. The asset mix and weightings of these underlying investments are automatically adjusted over time to be more conservative as your assumed retirement date approaches. Please note, however, that the principal value of your investment is not guaranteed at any time, including at the target date.

- For Coverdell Education Savings Accounts: In the Prime Money Market Fund.
- I understand that if my account is opened in a target-date fund, as described in this section, American Century Investments is not advising or recommending that fund or any particular investment strategy. Also, American Century Investments is not making any suitability determination based on my individual situation and is not acting in a fiduciary capacity with respect to my interests or my investment decisions.

For more information about target-date funds or to receive investment advice, please visit americancentury.com or contact us at the appropriate number listed on this form.
